Installation Instructions

1. Put the CodeBreaker in the tray and boot up your PS2.
2. After the device loads up, you will see a menu.
3. Press down and highlight the "Select Cheats" option.
4. Press ✕ to select the option. On a keyboard, hit Enter.
5. You are now on the Games List screen.
6. To add a new game, press ●. On a keyboard, hit Insert. (Skip this if you're not adding a new game.)
7. This will bring you to the "Add New Game" screen. Use the D-pad and ✕ to enter the name of the game (follow the onscreen instructions if you make a mistake). When done, hit START. On a keyboard, type the name in, and hit Enter when done.
8. After you enter the code name, you will be brought to the entry in the game list for your game. Note: If you skipped adding a new game, use the D-pad and shoulder buttons to browse the code list for the game you need. On a keyboard, you can use the arrow keys, page down, page up, or type the first letter of the game's title to move to the entry more quickly.
9. Once you have the eyeball cursor next to the game you want, press right on the control pad. On a keyboard, hit the right arrow key.
10. When you are on the Cheat List screen for your game, to add a cheat, press ●. On a keyboard, hit Insert. Important! Only the cheat titles will be entered on this screen. Do not enter the code lines here. If you do, they will not work.
11. You will now be on the "Add New Cheat" screen. Enter the title of the cheat here, the same way you entered the game's title before.
12. Once you confirm the cheat name, you will be brought back to the cheat list.

13. This is where the instructional crawl at the bottom of the screen has a small but important omission: In order to enter the code lines, you need to put the cursor next to the cheat, and press right on the control pad. Hit the right arrow key, if you are using a keyboard.

14. Now you are on the code line list for the cheat you selected. This is where you enter the code lines themselves (the two groups of eight characters 0-9, A-F). Press ● to add a code line, or on a keyboard, hit Insert.

15. At the entry screen for code lines, you'll notice the significant reduction in the available characters.

16. Use the D-pad and ✕ to enter the code line, pressing START after each one. With a keyboard, you can simply type in the code line (invalid characters will be ignored) and press Enter after each one.

17. When you are done entering code lines, press left on the controller to return to the cheat list, or press the left arrow key on a keyboard. Repeat the steps from 10 for each cheat you want to add.

18. The last step is to save the codes and return to the main menu. You do this by pressing START or tapping Enter on the keyboard from any of the list screens. If you have added or modified anything, you will be asked if you wish to save. The CodeBreaker will then go to its main menu.
